1. In the course of my meeting with General Carter and Mr. Kirkpatrick this morning to discuss our summer employment program (see yesterday's Diary Notes), I reminded them that they must have a meeting soon and make a decision [REDACTED]. General Carter said that, insofar as he was concerned, this decision had already been made; i.e., this situation should be regularized forthwith. In fact, he was critical of me for having allowed this situation to continue this long. He said that in retrospect it seemed clear to him that we should have allowed this subsidy only until the end of the "season," possibly three or four months at the most. I requested that he not make any final decision without first allowing DD/P representatives to present their case. He asked Kirk to call a meeting in order to hear the DD/P argument. However, he also said that, if they convinced Kirk that this subsidy should be extended, then Kirk would have to convince him, and he would in turn have to take it up with the Director. (On Monday, 2 March, I advised [REDACTED] of the foregoing and alerted him to be prepared to present his best case when Kirk calls the meeting.)
